RE: Memo 013 – Changes to Provider Certification Criteria, February 2009

I am pleased to announce that, as of 2-16-2009, 140 agencies have been certified to be Indiana Access to Recovery providers. Of these providers, 35 are recovery consultant agencies and a number are both recovery consultant agencies and direct service providers. Given the overwhelming response to the opportunity to be Indiana ATR recovery consultants it has become necessary to close enrollment to new recovery consultation agencies.

Any agency that had not completed the certification process to become an Indiana ATR Recovery Consultant by the 28th of February, 2009, will not be certified as an Indiana ATR Recovery Consultant.

Additionally, current providers, either Recovery Consultants or direct service providers, will no longer be certified to become dual service agencies, effective this same date.

Finally, providers that wish to have their agency listed as providing service or having a facility in a given county must have local staff working in that county and accessible to clients at a physical location in the county. Exceptions to this policy must be submitted to your respective INATR county contact for state approval.

The Indiana ATR team is grateful for the wonderful response we have received from providers around the state seeking to participate in the ATR program. We look forward to enrolling a number of additional direct service providers into the Indiana ATR provider network.

Thank you,

Eric L. Scott
